Who’s New in CSE

Elmer Marth has received the National Cheese Institute’s Laureate Award, the institute’s highest honor. The award, presented in January 2004, recognizes Marth’s lifelong dedication to research and teaching cheese safety. Marth, professor emeritus at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, was editor of the Journal of Food Protection from 1967 to 1987.